

INTERNATIONAL WORKSHOP ON CHINESE STUDIES

Friday, April 14, 2023, 9:30 am - 5:30 pm

Location: Brower Commons A & B

9:30 Welcome Remarks and Breakfast

10:00 Jessey Choo, "The March of the Malicious Fetus: Abortion and Childbed Calamities in Late Medieval Daoist Discourses" 惡胎行軍：中古晚期道教對墮胎及產難的論述

11:00 TSAO Shu-Chuan, "Inheriting from Yi Toegye's Poetry of Leisurely Living in the Reconstruction of the Chinese Cultural Schema" 退溪閒居詩對漢文化圖式的傳習與重構

12:00 Lunch

1:00 TSAI Chu-Ching, "A Study of the Cultural Schema Constructed by the Views on Foot-Binding in the New Fiction Works of the Late Qing Dynasty" 試論晚清時新小說中的纏足論述所創構的文化圖式

2:00 Xiaojuan Wang, "From Area Studies to World Literature: Eileen Chang on the Edges of Literature" 從區域研究到世界文學：張愛玲與文學的邊緣

3:00 Coffee Break

3:30 Weijie Song, "Reviving Northeast China: Contemporary Literature and Film Beyond the Great Wall" 東北•文藝•復興：當代關外文學電影

4:30 LIU Cheng-Chung, "Speeches in Taiwan During the Japanese Colonial Period" 日治臺灣演說考

About This Workshop

The Department of Asian Languages & Cultures at Rutgers University will host a special workshop for visiting scholars from National Taiwan University on Friday, April 14, 2023. Scholars working on premodern and modern periods will present their latest research on Chinese literature and history.

Participants

Jessey Choo (Rutgers University), Cheng-Chung Liu (National Taiwan University), Weijie Song (Rutgers University), Wendy Swartz (Rutgers University), Chu-Ching Tsai (National Taiwan University), Shu-Chuan Tsao (National Taiwan University), Xiaojuan Wang (Rutgers University)

This event is open to all faculty and students. Email yj281@scarletmail.rutgers.edu to RSVP before April 7, 2023.